HISTORY

"Air Commando Spirit" dates back to the jungles of the China-Burma-India theater of operations during World War II. They flew P-51 and P-47 fighters, L-1 and L-5 observation planes, C-47 cargo and CG-4 and TG-5 gliders, and B-25 bombers. Air Commandos enabled airdrop and landing of troops, equipment and supplies. Air Commandos were the first to use helicopters in the evacuation of casualties. They also used airpower in attacks against enemy airfields and lines of communication.
